

Abstract of the Disclosure

A shower arrangement including a plurality of freely movable silver coated decontaminating members in the shower head. Inserts of a decontaminating material such as silver are provided at each end of an upper section of the stand pipe, with the decontaminating members and inserts substantially preventing build up of bacteria.